AUDIT COMMITTEE CHARTER

Amended and Restated by the Board of Directors of Lam Research Corporation on May 20, 2026

Purpose

The purpose of the Audit Committee (the "Committee") of the Board of Directors (the "Board") of Lam Research Corporation (the "Company") is to oversee the accounting and financial reporting processes of the Company, the Company's independent auditors, including an assessment of their qualifications and independence, the Company's internal audit program, its investment policies and performance, its cybersecurity and information security policies, its Ethics and Compliance Program, the audits of its financial statements, including the system of internal controls. The Committee is not responsible, however, for planning or conducting audits, or determining whether the Company's financial statements are complete and accurate or in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

Composition

The Committee shall be composed of three or more directors, each of whom shall meet the independence and financial literacy requirements of The Nasdaq Stock Market LLC ("Nasdaq") listing standards for directors and audit committee members, as determined by the Board, and at least one of whom shall be financially sophisticated under Nasdaq listing standards and qualify as an "audit committee financial expert" as defined in the rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC"), as determined by the Board. No member of the Committee shall have participated in the preparation of the Company's or any current subsidiary's financial statements at any time during the past three years. Members shall be appointed to, and removed from, the Committee by the Board. Members shall automatically be removed from the Committee at such time when they are no longer a Board member.

Meetings and Procedures

The Committee chair (or in his or her absence, a member designated by the chair, or if a chair has not been designated by the Board, a member designated by the Committee) shall preside at each meeting of the Committee and set the agendas for Committee meetings. The Committee shall meet at least once during each fiscal quarter and more frequently as the Committee or its chair may deem appropriate. The Committee is governed by the same rules regarding meetings (including telephonic meetings or similar communications equipment), action without meetings, notice, waiver of notice, and quorum and voting requirements as are applicable to the Board.

Responsibilities

The Committee shall:

1. Appoint and provide for the compensation of the Company's independent auditor, oversee the work of the independent auditor (including resolution of any disagreements between management and the independent auditor regarding financial reporting), evaluate the performance of the independent auditor and, if so determined by the Committee, retain or replace the independent auditor. The independent auditor shall report directly to the Committee.

2. Receive and evaluate the written disclosures and the letter that the independent auditor submits to the Committee regarding the independent auditor's independence in accordance with the applicable auditing standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (the "PCAOB"), discuss such reports with the independent auditor, oversee the independence of the independent auditor, and, if so determined by the Committee in response to such reports, take appropriate action to address issues raised by such evaluation.

3. Approve in advance or provide pre-concurrence for all audit services and permissible non-audit services to be provided to the Company by its independent auditor (including the fees), in accordance with and in a manner consistent with the laws, rules and regulations applicable to the Company. The Committee may adopt policies and procedures for the pre-approval of such services (including the fees). The Committee may delegate authority to a designated member, or members, of the Committee to pre-approve such services so long as any such approvals are disclosed to the full Committee at its next scheduled meeting. As such, the Committee has delegated such authority to the Committee chair.

4. Discuss with the independent auditor the matters required to be discussed under the applicable requirements of the PCAOB and the SEC.

5. Discuss and review with management, the independent auditor and the internal auditor the adequacy and effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting, including any subjects that require special attention or any significant deficiencies or material weaknesses to the system of internal control over financial reporting that are identified, and any special steps adopted in light of material control deficiencies. Review with management and the independent auditor any material changes to the system of internal control over financial reporting.

6. Discuss and review with management and the internal auditor the adequacy and effectiveness of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures.

7. Oversee management's implementation and maintenance of internal control over accounting and financial reporting and of reporting systems and procedures designed to identify material misstatements in financial reporting, whether due to error or fraud.

8. In connection with the annual audit, receive, review, and discuss reports from the independent auditor on (i) all critical accounting policies of the Company, (ii) all alternative treatments of financial information within generally accepted accounting principles that have been discussed with management, including (a) ramifications of the use of such alternative disclosures and treatments and (b) the treatment preferred by the independent auditor, and (iii) other material written communications between the independent auditor and management, such as any management letter or schedule of uncorrected misstatements. This report should also include any other matters required to be communicated by the independent auditor to the Committee under the applicable standards of the PCAOB.

9. Meet with management and the independent auditor to discuss the annual financial statements, the report of the independent auditor and management representation letter thereon, and to discuss significant issues encountered in the course of the audit work, including restrictions on the scope of activities, access to required information, the adequacy of internal control over financial reporting, and the adequacy of disclosure of off-balance sheet transactions, arrangements, obligations and relationships in reports filed with the SEC. Review and discuss the deficiencies analysis delivered by the independent auditor in connection with the audit.

10. Following the review and discussions described in paragraphs 2, 5, 8 and 9, if so determined by the Committee, recommend to the Board that the annual financial statements be included in the Company's annual report.

11. Meet quarterly with management and the independent auditor to discuss the quarterly financial statements prior to the filing of Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q and the release of any earnings press release. Review quarterly any non-GAAP financial measures and approve any new non-GAAP categories included in any SEC filing or in any public disclosure or release.

12. Meet at least once each year in separate executive sessions with management, the internal auditor, and the independent auditor to discuss matters that any of them or the Committee believes could significantly affect the financial statements and should be discussed privately.

13. Review significant changes to the Company's accounting principles and practices proposed by the independent auditor, the internal auditor or management.

14. At least annually, review and reassess the Internal Audit Charter and, if appropriate, approve any proposed changes. Review the scope, results, and analysis of internal audits (if any). Evaluate the performance of the internal auditor and review internal audit performance with the Chief Financial Officer.

15. Review the Company's earnings press releases, as well as financial information and earnings guidance provided therein.

16. Conduct or authorize such inquiries into matters within the Committee's scope of responsibility as the Committee deems appropriate.

17. Provide minutes of Committee meetings to the Board, and report to the Board on any significant matters arising from the Committee's work.

18. At least annually, review, and reassess this Charter and, if appropriate, recommend proposed changes to the Board.

19. Approve the report required by the rules and regulations of the SEC to be included in the Company's annual proxy statement.

20. Oversee the Company's Office of Ethics and Compliance and provide input periodically on the performance, compensation, and retention of the Chief Compliance Officer. Establish procedures for receipt, retention and treatment of any complaints received by the Company about its accounting, internal accounting controls or auditing matters, and for the confidential and anonymous submission of concerns regarding questionable accounting or auditing matters. At least annually, review the effectiveness of the anonymous complaint and reporting process, and review and reassess the Ethics and Compliance Program Charter and, if appropriate, approve any proposed changes. The Committee chair will be the initial point of contact for ethics and compliance reports and, depending on the subject matter, will determine the appropriate oversight body among the Committee, the Board, or another committee. At least annually, meet with the Chief Compliance Officer and other senior members of the Company's Office of Ethics and Compliance in executive session.

21. At least annually, review and monitor risk associated with the Company's (i) investment policy and its investment portfolio performance, (ii) counterparty risk, including the financial position of key counterparties, including key customers, and (iii) debt and banking covenants, liquidity, available credit under revolving or other lines of credit, and access to financing.

22. Review and monitor the Company's cybersecurity and information security policies and its internal controls regarding cybersecurity and information security. Regularly report to the Board, at such intervals as determined by the Committee, the substance of such reviews and, as necessary, recommend to the Board such actions as the Committee deems appropriate.

23. Review and oversee, on an ongoing basis, potential related party and conflict of interest situations, all transactions required to be disclosed pursuant to Item 404 of Regulation S-K, and any other transaction involving an executive or Board member, and, as the Committee deems appropriate, approve or ratify such transactions.

24. At least annually, review and monitor the Company's hedging strategy. Review and approve management's decision to enter into swaps that are exempt from the clearing and trade execution requirements under the End User Exception provision of the Dodd Frank Act.

25. Review with management, on an ongoing basis, significant new regulatory or financial reporting matters.

26. Fulfill any disclosure, reporting or other requirements imposed on or required of audit committees of public companies by the SEC or applicable Nasdaq listing standards or other applicable laws, rulings or regulations.

27. At least annually, review and monitor the Company's tax strategies.

28. At least annually, conduct (or oversee a third party facilitating) a self-evaluation of the Committee's performance, which may be part of the Board's self-evaluation.

29. Periodically review and approve the Company's Insider Trading Policy, including the review and approval of any amendments and changes thereto.

30. Oversee (i) the determination of whether an accounting restatement is required due to the material noncompliance of the Company with any financial reporting requirement under the securities laws and (ii) the preparation of the Company's accounting restatements to correct such noncompliance.

Authority

By adopting this Charter, the Board delegates to the Committee full authority, in its discretion, to:

1. Perform each of the responsibilities of the Committee described above.

2. Delegate any of its responsibilities or authority to one or more subcommittees, the Committee chair, or any other committee of the Board, as it deems appropriate, to the extent permitted by applicable law, the Company's governing documents and the rules and regulations of the SEC and applicable Nasdaq listing standards.

3. Engage independent counsel and other advisers as the Committee determines necessary or appropriate to carry out its responsibilities.

4. Cause the officers of the Company to provide such funding as the Committee shall determine to be appropriate for the payment of compensation to the Company's independent auditor, legal counsel or other advisers engaged by the Committee, and payment of ordinary administrative expenses of the Committee that are necessary or appropriate in carrying out its duties.
